1 EXT. OPEN PLAINS - NEW MEXICO - DAY

1

An infinity of space. In the distance a cluster of indistinguishable shapes moves TOWARDS US. As they CLOSE TO CAMERA, we SEE they are a pack of wild mustangs -- a stallion and nine mares running hard. They race PAST CAMERA in a thundering blur.

1A EXT. A RACETRACK SOMEWHERE IN THE WEST - DAY

1A

A tight cluster of horses thunders into the home stretch. In a sudden burst of speed, Number "7," a big bay with black mane and tail, pulls away and moves up on the outside. The crowd goes wild!

BOOTH ANNOUNCER (V.O.)

Rising Star in his last race before retirement. The most spectacular stallion in the history of the turf! -- Triple Crown Winner -- With over 3 1/2 million in purses --

At the finish it's Rising Star by a nose.

BOOTH ANNOUNCER (V.O.)

(continuing)

He's done it! -- this marks his twenty-seventh win -- and what-a-way-to-go!!!

2 EXT. RODEO GROUNDS - BRAHMA BULL AND RIDER - DAY

2

The bull at the top of his arc, all four feet off the ground. The rider is SONNY STEELE, looking as if he were welded to the bull's back. BUZZER SOUNDS the end of a perfect ride, but as the fans jump to their feet, Sonny continues his ride just-for-the-hell-of-it!! Then he vaults off the beast landing on the balls of his feet, with both arms raised triumphantly as the crowd goes wild.

3 EXTREME CLOSEUP - SILVER CHAMPIONSHIP BELT BUCKLE

3

ZOOM BACK as the wearer, Sonny, charges his horse from the chute, rides down on a running steer. CROWD SOUND CARRIES OVER. Sonny drops expertly onto the horns and pins the steer to the ground.

- 4 SPINNING RED LIGHT ATOP AN AMBULANCE - NIGHT 4
 PULL BACK TO SEE the ambulance just off a rodeo arena. Two cowboys carry the limp body of Sonny towards it. As the cowboys are about to put him in, he comes to, squirms out of their grasp, shakes his head to clear it, and limps back toward the arena. CHEERING CONTINUES.
- 5 ANOTHER RODEO ARENA - NIGHT 5
 Sonny atop a spinning, bucking saddle bronc. PUSH IN until the spinning becomes a blur. SOUNDTRACK BEGINS TO FADE SLOWLY.
- 6 EXT. WINNER'S PLATFORM - RODEO ARENA - NIGHT 6
 Sonny, center stage, surrounded by well-wishers, is handed another championship buckle. Smiling, he looks from the new one to the one he is already wearing, then tosses the buckle affectionately to a pretty blonde girl in the crowd. She catches it and holds it up with still a third silver buckle. COLOR FADES SLOWLY from the picture and the SOUNDTRACK is now ONLY AN ECHO.
- 7 EXT. ANOTHER RODEO ARENA - ANOTHER BRAHMA BULL AND SONNY - DAY 7
 Picture is almost BLACK AND WHITE and there is NO SOUND. The deadly ballet goes on in eerie silence.
- 8 INT. MAKESHIFT EMERGENCY ROOM - SMALL TOWN - NIGHT 8
 Sonny lies on a medical table. Two doctors stitch up his back. His hand dangles over the side of the table clutching a can of Coors beer. Two cowboy faces are visible through the glass door in b.g. The picture begins to FLICKER and MOVE MORE SLOWLY.
- 9 EXT. SAME WINNER'S PLATFORM - RODEO ARENA - NIGHT 9
 Sonny receives still another silver belt buckle. Film slows further and moves forward jerkily. From the silence comes a NEW SOUND: the CLICKING OF SPROCKETS. A champagne cork silently pops and as the liquid sprays over the frame, Sonny smiles a devastating smile. FRAME FREEZES.

VOICE

That's it!

PULL BACK QUICKLY TO SEE we have been looking at a moviola, which has stopped on the last frame. The operator's hand is visible holding the brake.

- 10 INT. ART DEPARTMENT - THE AMPCO CORPORATION - DAY 10
 CAMERA TRAVELS PAST the back of four designers, all at work painting various versions of Sonny Steele smiling. PUSH IN on last drawing, the closest approximation of the Sonny we saw in the freeze frame; the same dazzling smile, his eyes full of life and mischief.
- 10A INT. AIRLINE TERMINAL - SOUTHWEST - DAY 10A
 OPEN CLOSE on a sleeping cowboy. Sonny. His Stetson pulled down against the harsh fluorescent lights. A little boy stands nearby, staring at his boots. Sonny's head rises slowly, he clucks softly as though to a horse. The boy smiles. LEROY, Sonny's assistant and dresser, moves INTO SHOT and helps him to his feet, propping him up.
- LEROY
 Come on, Champ -- we gotta do Santa Paula.
- We FOLLOW FROM BEHIND, as WENDELL, Sonny's manager appears and takes his other side. Wendell is in his fifties, still hard-bodied with wind-leathered skin and pale eyes that take in more than they give out.
- 10B X-RAY OF LUGGAGE - A PRETTY ATTENDANT 10B
 She looks up. A smile of recognition.
- X-RAY GIRL
 Hi, there! Saw you on Mike
 Douglas last night!
- In response, a tired hand touches the brim of his hat.
- 10C SADDLE AND BAGS 10C
 travelling a conveyor belt to the plane. The WHINE of JET ENGINES.
- 11 INT. DRESSING ROOM UNDER A STADIUM - SONNY - NIGHT 11
 CLOSE on his face, blank, lifeless. PULL BACK TO SEE him sprawled in a chair while Leroy struggles to get boots on him. Sonny is in trousers of purple and green, wires hanging loosely from the waist. Old scars adorn his chest.

11

Around his waist and over his shoulders is a complicated back support. Wendell paces.

LEROY

I can't do it, him layin' down.

They lift Sonny to his feet, stuff him into a matching shirt. The second they let go, Sonny starts to slump toward the chair.

WENDELL

No you don't, son... later.

12 EXT. PASSAGEWAY UNDER THE STANDS - AMPCO FLUNKY - NIGHT

12

He checks his watch impatiently. He wears a mustard colored blazer. A corporate logo featuring a running horse is emblazoned above his heart. We HEAR the LOUD VAROOM of cars revving. A final crash and then the SOUND of a CRIPPLED CAR moving away. APPLAUSE.

ANNOUNCER'S VOICE

Looks like Floyd Gerber has had it for the night. And that means that Lester Crosley of Santa Rosa has won the Demolition Derby!

More APPLAUSE.

ANNOUNCER'S VOICE

(continuing)

And now folks, while we get ready for the next race, we've got a special treat for you...

Behind the AMPCO MAN, the dressing room door opens and Wendell and Leroy manhandle the rag-doll figure of Sonny out the door.

AMPCO MAN

(disgusted)

Is he going to make it?

WENDELL

Don't he always?

They move Sonny down a darkened passageway as Ampco watches.

ANNOUNCER'S VOICE
... you're gonna get to meet one of the all time great cowboys -- five time all around World Champion;
Sonny Steele!

FOLLOW Ampco up through the walkway that looks out onto the stadium grounds. Lights inside dim to black. A long pause and nothing happens.

ANNOUNCER'S VOICE
(continuing; repeating)
Sonny Steele!

Still nothing. Ampco is coming unglued. Then, SOUND of HOOFBEATS as Sonny enters the arena riding in darkness. Suddenly he lights up like a Christmas tree!
His suit is wired with tiny twinkling light bulbs.
The CROWD CHEERS.

ANNOUNCER'S VOICE
(continuing) Sonny Steele appears tonight through the courtesy of Ranch
Breakfast, a division of AMPCO Industries.

Sonny makes a triumphal circle, then comes to a stop. He rears the horse, and holds up an oversized light-up cereal box.

13 CLOSER - SONNY

13

As the horse rears he loses his balance, but somehow rallies, grabs the saddle horn steadying himself and turns on the devastating smile. FREEZE FRAME and SUPER MAIN TITLE: THE ELECTRIC HORSEMAN.

16 EXT. A 727 TAKING OFF - NIGHT

16

MUSIC and TITLES CONTINUE.

17 INT. FIRST CLASS CABIN - SONNY - NIGHT 17

He is slumped in his seat, hat over eyes, apparently asleep. PULL BACK TO SEE Wendell seated across the aisle, and the stewardess wheeling the drink cart between them. She stops by Sonny, but Wendell gestures to her, shaking his head "no," finger to his lips. She understands, continues down aisle. Wendell is relieved.

18 CLOSER - SONNY 18

Under his hat brim he has one eye open -- very much awake. TILT DOWN TO SEE that he has grabbed two tequila miniatures from cart.

19 EXT. SHOPPING MALL - CLOSE - SONNY - DAY 19

TITLES CONTINUE.

Wearing another ridiculously overdone outfit, he stands on a platform covered with AstroTurf, beside him, two ten-foot boxes of "Country Breakfast." An arched trellis over the platform carries a sign: COUNTRY BREAKFAST AND SONNY STEELE - TWO WORLD CHAMPIONS.

Sonny passes out miniature boxes of the cereal to the crowd.

SONNY

(OVER P.A.)

Builds strong bodies in 12 different ways. Better than orange juice... toast... bacon...

He stops. The crowd waits:

SONNY

(continuing)

... toast... bacon.

20 CLOSE - WENDEL - 20

in the crowd.

WENDELL

(feeding him)

21 FULL SHOT INCLUDING SONNY

21

SONNY

... eggs... toast... bacon...
eggs, ahh...

(a beat, then;)

Eggs and ham and chicken and waffles and meat loaf and fish and olives and those bean things and --

Wendell is shaking his head, looking at the ground.
PAN OVER TO a limousine garishly painted to match the "Ranch Breakfast" box. The AMPCO man stands beside the limo -- angry -- as usual.

22 CLOSE - A TELEVISION SCREEN - DAY

22

TITLES CONTINUE.

The beautiful thoroughbred stallion cantering in a meadow.
Suddenly he is travelling through an immaculate scientific laboratory.

PULL BACK TO SEE Sonny, Wendell and Leroy seated at a bar in a small town cafe.

LEROY

Won my rent off that sucker plenty 'a times.

WENDELL

Horse should be at stud.

SONNY

We all should.

In the doorway the AMPCO Man looks in, points toward the limo.

WENDELL

We know, junior... we know.

23 INT. A SUPERMARKET - GRAND OPENING - DAY

23

Huge displays, advertisements. People jam the aisles, all staring off. CAMERA FOLLOWS their gaze, discovers Sonny in another outlandish costume, astride a small mechanical horse. At the edge of the crowd a GIRL waves to get Sonny's attention. She is dressed in Western clothes. She's pretty but vapid.

GIRL

Hi! Lucinda. Lucinda Fairlee?
... The JB Ranch Trick Cowgirl rider?

Sonny doesn't remember.

SONNY

Sure... Hiya, Lucinda.

LUCINDA/GIRL

Since you seen us I'm the only original JB Ranch Trick Cowgirl
and Gretchen married brothers.

He looks past her, wishing he were somewhere else.

LUCINDA

(continuing)

You don't remember, do you?...
Last month?... After the Watsonville Rodeo?

SONNY

Sure...the watsonville Rodeo, how ya' doin'?

At that moment the little girl on Sonny's lap wets her pants. Sonny lifts her off him just as Leroy flips a switch and the machine begins its parody of a horse.
Sonny bobs up and down, up and down. PUSH to his face;
END TITLES.

24/25

PULL BACK to see Sonny, Wendell and Leroy in a hotel suite somewhere in the southwest. Wendell writes a post card at the coffee table. There is a room service cart with a bowl of pickles. Sonny is stretched on a couch sipping Jack Daniels, chasing it with beer. Leroy changes the channel.

LEROY

Won my rent off that sucker plenty
'a times.

WENDELL

(writing)
Horse should be at stud.

SONNY

We all should.

Leroy turns off the TV, picks up one of Sonny's garish costumes, begins sewing a button on.

WENDELL

You gonna ride that beauty in Vegas on Friday.

LEROY

Ride 'em..hell! He's goin' sit on him on a stage...with rubber booties on him.

Wendell shoots a glance at Leroy. Sonny sits up, wincing at the pain in his back. Wendell hands Sonny the post card.

WENDELL

Sign that. It's to Wilkin's boy.
He drew "Little Venus" in Fiarview.
We gotta send him ~~a little~~ luck.

SONNY

(signing)
He'll need it. Ain't he the kid fell outa' the barber chair?

Leroy picks a pickle off the service cart, points it.

LEROY

You stayed on worse than "Little Venus".

Wendell picks up a newspaper, begins scanning it.

WENDELL

Ain't no worse than "Little Venus."

*Sonny
Don't point pickles at me.*

CONTINUED

LEROY

"Twinkles" was worse than "Venus", Sonny did 8 on "Twinkles, nobody done "Twinkles" since!

SONNY

I ain't on "Twinkles" no more!
I got no interest to be!

LEROY

Hell...just complimentin' ya.

Wendell and Leroy exchange a look.

SONNY

Get me a couple a' them yellow ones'
Leroy.

LEROY

I got the brace over there if it's hurtin', Bo.

SONNY

Just gimme the pills.

LEROY

You already took wake-ups...

SONNY

I don't need no Mama, Leroy.

But the image of Leroy sewing buttons on suddenly strikes
Sonny as funny. He begins to laugh.

SONNY

Just when you finish your sewing, would you burp me please.

Leroy reluctantly gets a pill vial from the cabinet, hands
Sonny two yellow capsules. He swallows them with a beer.

WENDELL

Ranch for sale in Colby...four hundred fifty acres, cattle and...

LEROY

(to Sonny)

Wish you'd a bought that ranch in Farina... 'stead a the Malibu place.

SONNY

You were in that water faster than anybody, Leroy! Flappin' around like a damn penguin. What the hell's wrong with you guys? You got room service, you got ladies in the lobby, you fly first class, the laundry comes back with tissue paper in it. Hell, we're livin' like millionares.

LEROY

Cowboys in the ocean? Don't make sense.

SONNY

Beats goin to work every night havin a bull tap dance on my back, don't it?

WENDELL

Leroy, get that thing pressed before the stadium tonight.

SONNY

Didn't have no horse step on my abdomen today...didn't catch my foot in no stirrup and have no bronc usin my head for a ping-pong ball...

25A EXT. A MINOR LEAGUE STADIUM - NIGHT

25A

We HEAR SOUNDS OF THE GAME, as Sonny roars up in his white Cadillac. He gets out, starts toward his trailer when he sees the AMPCO Man coming toward him. Sonny sneaks a look at his watch, but for once the AMPCO Man doesn't look annoyed. He looks smug.

SONNY

Ahh... some car trouble. Gonna change right now.

AMPCO MAN

No rush. Come with me a minute.

This isn't their usual routine. Sonny follows AMPCO under the stands to a place where they can see the field. As they reach it we HEAR:

ANNOUNCEMENT

Ladies and gentlemen, for Country Breakfast... The world's greatest cowboy... Mr. Sonny Steele!

25B ON THE BALL FIELD - DARKNESS

25B

Suddenly, out of the dark, a rider in Sonny's light-up suit makes a grand circle in front of the unseen CHEERING CROWD.

25C CLOSE - SONNY

25C

Stunned.

SONNY

That's not...

AMPCO MAN

They don't know it.

25D FULL SHOT - THE NIGHT RIDER

25D

Just a shape. The outline of a man, a backdrop for the flickering lights.

25E CLOSER - SONNY

25E

Watching the part of him that "belongs" to AMPCO. HOLD on his face. Then:

27

EXT CAESAR'S PALACE - FRONT PARKING LOT - DAY

27

A phony corral -- white log fence, green AstroTurf. From a luxurious van, Rising Star is led down a ramp by his wrangler, TOMMY. News cameras turn, the crowd, including Leroy, "oohs" and "ahhs". Flashbulbs pop. Wendell comes up.

WENDELL

Where the hell is he?

LEROY

Proly drunk in Barstow.

Behind them, commotion, as some celebrities enter.

29 INT LOBBY AREA - CAESAR'S PALACE - DOOR 29

The crowd at the door gives way to BUD BRODERICK the AMPCO film star, and his companion, starlet JOANNA CAMDEN. More flashbulbs, as they smile and sign autographs.

30 A BANK OF ELEVATORS 30

Cases of camrea equipment are being put on one elevator. They are stenciled W.B.C. DIGEST. When the cameraman, BERNIE, is satisfied that they are safe, he moves to join his group at the other elevator. Among his group is his assistant, ERIC, and HALLIE MARTIN, thirties, chic, urban and at the moment very bored. They are attended by FITZGERALD, the AMPCO PR Chief.

BERNIE

What time is the press conference?

Hallie shrugs.

FITZGERALD

You've got half an hour.

Elevator arrives. We FOLLOW them in.

31 INT ELEVATOR - FITZGERALD, HALLIE, BERNIE, ERIC 31

Hallie leans her head back against the corner, eyes half-closed.

FITZGERALD

I'm sure you'll love your rooms, the place is yours, we've got half a dozen movie people, Bug Broderick just came in with Joanna Camden. Rising Star's here. We got the biggest damn Earth Mover you ever saw...a helluva show planned for tonight and --

BERNIE

What're you doing with the horse?

31

CONTINUED:

31

FITZGERALD

He'll be onstage with Sonny STeele, you know, the cowboy we use for Ranch Breakfast.

BERNIE

(to Hallie)
Worth covering?

FITZGERALD

(nervously) Well...there's better stuff. The cowboy's a peach of a guy -- but not terrific copy. Lot's of "yup" and "shucks".

Hallie's eyes open slightly.

FITZGERALD

(continuing)
He's no interview -- I'd steer clear.

32

INT HALLWAY - ELEVATOR DOORS OPEN

32

Fitzgerald remains inside elevator.

FITZGERALD

See you downstairs.

CAMERA follows Hallie, Bernie and Eric down hallway.

HALLIE

Yup....So they don't want us to talk to the cowboy.

BERNIE

Where do you want to start? I gotta get a sandwich.

HALLIE

What do you mean where do I want to start? With the cowboy, ~~fn~~ of course.

BELLMAN

INT LOBBY - CAESAR'S PALACE - DAY

33

More flashbulbs. CAMERA SPOTS a sweet-lllking blonde in her middle thirties as she approaches the desk. Her voice has a Southern twang when she speaks.

33

WOMAN

Excuse me, has Mr. Sonny Steele checked in yet?

CLERK

(referring to notes)
I don't have him listed.

34 INT. CLEOPATRA'S BARGE - BAR - DAY

OPEN CLOSE on a small tape recorder. A finger presses "START." Two drinks are set down beside it and CAMERA PULLS BACK to REVEAL a nervous Wendell in conversation with Hallie.

HALLIE

That's a very unusual watchband.

WENDELL

Thank you, ma'am, it's Indian.

HALLIE

May I see it?

Wendell takes off his watch, hands it to her, all the while trying to keep an eye on the door for Sonny.
Hallie puts the watch on.

HALLIE

(continuing)

It's lovely.

(hands it back)

Listen... why would AMPCO ask us not to interview Sonny Steele?

WENDELL

Where'd you hear that?

HALLIE

One of your AMPCO people.

WENDELL

Well... that don't mean anything.
They're just a little down on Sonny right now... he ain't been actin' himself lately. He's a cowboy... sometimes he loses the best part of himself.

HALLIE

What's the best part of himself?

34

WENDELL

Oh, you'd have to know him a long time to know that.

HALLIE

How long have you known him?

WENDELL

Long, long time... 'fore his daddy died. Came up to my knee.

CAMERA HAS PULLED AWAY, and now PANS all the activity in the casino -- displays, celebrities, and always the flashbulbs.

35 LONG VIEW - THE MOUNTAINS ACROSS THE DESERT - SUNSET 35

The sun is a bloody yolk melting into the mountain tops. MUSIC UP. HOLD, then:

36 CLOSEUP - A GLOVED ELECTRICIAN'S HAND 36

He throws a large toggle switch.

37 FULL SHOT - A SIGN 37

It lights into life. Animated! A giant smiling cowboy, with a moving arm... hitchhiking. Thousands of blinking lights.

38 SWISH PAN FROM A CLOCK TO ANOTHER ELECTRICAL SWITCH 38

Another hand throws this switch.

39 FULL SHOT - A SECTION OF "THE STRIP" 39

Three more signs leap into life. Moving, blinking, silently shouting for attention.

40 EXTREME CLOSEUP - STILL ANOTHER SWITCH 40

Sparks fly as this one is slammed home.

41 WIDE ANGLE - THE ENTIRE LAS VEGAS STRIP - SUNSET 41

In full dress. A hundred million kilowatts, moving, gyrating, spinning, expanding.

Through the center of this electric jungle, Sonny's white cadillac appears, threading it's way through the traffic. As it PASSES CAMERA, HOLD.

EXT CAESAR'S PALACE - SONNY ARRIVING - SUNSET

42

He's driven hard and he and the car show it. He starts towards the entrance, but notices Rising Star's corral. He moves to it, takes of his sunglasses and stares at the animal through red-rimmed eyes.

WENDELL'S VOICE

Sonny!!

He rushes up, grabs Sonny by the arm and drags him toward the entranceway.

WENDELL

(continuing)

Dammit, where you been?

SONNY

(looking back;)

Hooo...he's slick.

(then)

What's...what's he doin' in the parking lot?

WENDELL

I don't know, but he got here on time. C'mon!

INT LOBBY - WENDELL PULLING SONNY

WENDELL

Press conference already started...
Danny Miles been waitin' all damn day to rehearse you...

Leroy joins them, holding a coat for Sonny. He slips it on, in movement, while he grabs a cocktail from a passing waitress.

SONNY

What do I hafta do? Do I hafta say something?

WENDELL

Son, there's been hell to pay around here...all them news people -- so just behave, willya? Just behave.

43A HALLWAY NEAR CONVENTION CENTER - SONNY, WENDELL, LEROY 43A
Walking fast.

LEROY

Blow in my face...here's some ~~rid~~ tic-tacs.

SONNY

You won't guess who I seen. Rush and Hawkman an ol' Edgar Stone.
They all send "hello" and Foggy Tates' wife Louise, she gimme this handkerchief.

He takes a silk kerchief from his pocker, smells it.

SONNY

(continuing)
Smells just like her.

LEROY

Told you he'd be in Barstow.

SONNY

Damn they got pretty girls in Las Vegas!

WENDELL

Sonny, this thing is a big deal fer these people. I never seen 'em so nervous. Company's tryin to buy up some big bank and they want this thing all to go real smooth now.

They stop~~x~~ in front of the entrance to a conference room.

SONNY

What's in here?

WENDELL

Press conference! And you're late.
Now don't tell no jokes and don't lift nobody's dress!

SONNY

What am I supposed to say?

WENDELL

Nuthin, with any luck!

He pushes him in.

44 INT BANQUET ROOM - PRESS CONFERENCE - NIGHT

In progress. Reporters on folding chairs facing a dias.
One empty chair. Sonny steps in.

45 MED SHOT - HALLIE & BERNIE

45

TIGHTEN on her as she studies Sonny.

46 HALLIE'S POV - SONNY

46

A man who shouldn't be at a press conference. Fitzgerald glares at him, as he tries to slip into the empty seat as inconspicuously as possible. At the center of the dias is DIETRICH, the second in command of the AMPCO corp.

REPORTER #1

Do you anticipate opposition to the takeover of Omnibank?

DIETRICH

Just a moment...this isn't a takeover, this is a merger.

REPORTER #1

But Omnibank has always fought takeovers...mergers, isn't that --

DIETRICH

We think that attitude is changing, and all for the better.

FITZGERALD

(rescuing)

Troy Reed looks about ready to jump out of his skin...What's your question, Troy?

TROY

(to Bud Broderick)

Bud, you've played opposite just about every major actress. Who in your opinion is the best...kisser?

Reporters chuckle: Broderick waits, then:

BRODERICK

That would depend on what part of the body you have in mind.

Sonny stares at him. A big laugh, Broderick yells over it.

BRODERICK

(continuing)

And I dare you to print that!

Hallie gets to her feet.

HALLIE

Mr. Steele, why'd you come forty-five minutes late for the press conference?

She's quieted the room. Sonny is startled by the directness of the question. He looks her over for a moment.

SONNY

Ahhh...well, I didn't get here on time.

A laugh.

HALLIE

I see...Do you eat the cereal that you advertise...Ranch Breakfast?

SONNY

Yes ma'am...I do.

HALLIE

One follow up question; You were three times All Around World Champion Cowboy --

SONNY

--Five times, ma'am.

HALLIE

Excuse me, five times...and now you sell Breakfast Cereal. How do you feel about that?

Reporters and Executives watch the exchange. Sonny stares at her.

SONNY

...Good. It's my...who the hell are you lady?

FITZGERALD

--Ahh...we're running a little behind. Mr. Sears has invited you to be his guest at the reception across the hall, before the show. I hope to see you all there. Thank you very much. Thank you.

Sonny only half-listens. He walks around Rising Star, patting him, clucking. He hears the horse's breathing.

SONNY

What you got him on?

WRANGLER

Penicillin.

A cynical look from Sonny.

WRANGLER

(continuing)

...and a little Bute.

SONNY

That tendon should be bandaged.

WRANGLER

They think it wouldn't look right.

DANNY

Ahh hello...Sonny, the first thing you do after you stop is you say --

SONNY

--your horse is stoned.

WRANGLER

How we gonna get him up here on this stage in front of all these --

DANNY

--Excuse me, gentlemen! We're trying to rehearse! Sonny, your first line is -- (checks script)

'Ranch Breakfast -- a champ's way to start the morning' --then you look at the horse and you say, 'Ain't that right, Rising Star... if you agree, don't say anything. That's where the laugh comes.

(hands script)

You try it.

Sonny glances at the script, starts to read:

SONNY

'Ranch Breakfast -- a champ's way to start the morning...'

He stops - looks at the horse - troubled.

DANNY

Then you say, 'Ain't that right, Rising Star? If you agree, don't say anything!'

SONNY

'Ain't that right, Rising Star?

(pause)

"If you agree, don't say anything."

He sets the script down.

SONNY

(continuing)

OK...OK. Can somebody write these dialogues on the saddle there.

He starts away.

DANNY

I didn't expect Olivier, but this is ridiculous.

(to the wrangler)

The man has no sense of Theatre.

49. INT HALLWAY - CAESAR'S PALACE - SONNY & WENDELL 49

Sonny is walking fast. Wendell tries to keep up.

WENDELL

Sonny this is Hunt Sears, Chairman of the board, this ain't no AMPCO flunkie.

SONNY

This it here?

WENDELL

You're in no shape to talk to no Hunt Sears.

SONNY

What I gotta do first, jog?

They are at the curtained entrance to the convention center. Before Wendell can stop him, Sonny enters.

50 INT CONVENTION ROOM - SONNY ENTERING 50

SEE it the way he does. Advertizing displays everywhere. Animated, lit, adorned with models. Brochures being handed out, music playing in the bg. Happy AMPCO exec's with wives and mistresses. Sonny calls out to an AMPCO blazer.

SONNY

Sears here?

BLAZER

Scissors?

SONNY

Your boss!

BLAZER

Yeah...I think he is.

50A ANOTHER AREA - HALLIE & BERNIE 50A

She directs his filming of a large AMPCO earth-mover display, backed by a brightly lit mural of the logo.

HALLIE

Don't make it look like an AMPCO Commercial.

BERNIE

That's what it is, an AMPCO Commercial.

51. TRAVELLING WITH SONNY - THROUGH CROWD

51.

A MAN in a suit has latched onto him.

SUIT

It'll be his first horse, what kind you think is best?

SONNY

How old's your kid?

SUIT

Six.

SONNY

Then you want a short horse.

He has arrived before the twice life-size cut-out of himself. He stares up at the blinking lights.

51A ANOTHER AREA - TOLAND, DIETRICH, FITZGERALD

51A

They are flanking a dark bespectacled man, quietly dressed. This is HUNT SEARS, corporate genius behind the AMPCO empire.

DIETRICH

Out of the blue, we're on the Omnibank merger...who the hell was that guy?

FITZGERALD

Perry Cross, Washington Bureau of the Times, he's connected at Treasury.

TOLAND

He shouldn't have been at the conference.

Mae is delighted to be remembered.

52 ANOTHER ANGLE - SONNY

52

He turns from the display as a waitress passes. He grabs a drink from the tray, as a pretty actress approaches him. She is SUNNY ANGEL.

ANGEL
Hi famous cowboy, I'm Sunny
Angel.

But Sonny is looking past her to Hallie. They are separated by the crowd. There's an awkward intensity in the way they regard each other.

ANGEL
"Revenge of the Cheerleaders"?
"Stews in Chains"?

Sonny is about to speak to Hallie, as an AMPCO executive pulls him around to face a middle-aged COUPLE

AMPCO
Sonny, there's a couple of people
I'd like you to meet. This is Mr. and Mrs Phillips.

SONNY

 You know what curiosity done to the cat.

AMPCO
 ...and this is Mrs. Phillips.

SONNY
 How'd you do.

MRS PHILLIPS
 I just love that...that big picture of you.

MR. PHILLIPS
 Very, very effective, very eye-catching.

AMPCO
 Grace, why don't you get over there in front of the poster with Sonny and George can take a picture of you to send back home.

SONNY
 I'll tell you what, why don't ya take Grace's picture in front of the picture of me...with the box with my picture on it..holdin' the box...with the picture of me? Then ya got Grace...and a whole lot 'a pictures of me.

He sort of smiles as he backs off.

NEW MAN

Listen, I want to talk to you about Salt Lake and that TV show in Denver. We made some changes in your copy --

SONNY

--Bet it's shorter, right?

Joanna Camden moves in with a photographer.

JOANNA

Hello Sonny, I'm Joanna Camden, this is madness, would you believe yesterday I was in Norway. This guy wants to take our picture.

55 LEROY AND WENDELL - ENTERING

LEROY

Why'd you leave him go in here in the first place?

WENDELL

Just shut up and find him!

56 CLOSE SONNY - AT THE BAR

56

A moment of privacy. Then Bud Broderick enters.

BUD

Oh, Boy, this is a crazy business we're in, isn't it? Gets to ya. I'm lookin' for a place t'get away from it all. You're a cowboy, you know what I mean. Some place where I can just clear up the old brain. Ride out there and breath in the air. I mean the real stuff, Montana, Wyoming.

SONNY

I think you ought to stick closer to Malibu.

He sees Sears, moves away from the bar.

56A TRAVELLING WITH SONNY

56A

Sunny Angel hits on him again.

ANGEL

Hey...I saw you ride in Cheyenne
...you sure stay on a long time.

He walks right past her and towards Sears group.

57 SEARS, SONNY AND EXECUTIVES - NEAR MOTORCYCLES

57.

Toland might try to stop Sonny, but;

SONNY

Mr. Sears --

SEARS

Hello Sonny. About time we finally met isn't it?

SONNY

Yes sir...it's about time we met.

SEARS

Everyone here know Mr. Steele?
(they nod)
What do you think of our horse?
Couldn't find you a better straight man could we?

SONNY

Mr Sears, I'd like to have a word with --

TOLAND

Perhaps later, Mr. --

SEARS

Beautiful animal isn't it, Sonny?

SONNY

He's an amazing animal...but... he don't belong in no parking lot in Las Vegas.

SEARS

(warmly)

I don't suppose Las Vegas is the most natural place in the world for any of us, is it?

SONNY

I don't know...that horse ain't

TOLAND
 He represents a substantial investment - you can be sure we've entrusted his care to experts.

SONNY
 (an edge)
 Well them experts ain't so expert!

There would be a strong reaction, but at this point a matron comes up with a picture of Sonny.

MATRON
 Mr. Steele, would you sign this please...for my daughter, Tammy.

He signs quickly.

57A CLOSE SHOT HALLIE - NEAR THE HEAVY MACHINERY 57A

She leans against something, watches.

57B BACK TO SONNY, SEARS AND EXECUTIVES 57B

SONNY
 There you go, Ma'am.

Hands her the picture.

FITZGERALD
 Listen, Sonny, why don't I have
 Mr. Sears secretary make an app--

SONNY
 What you doin' stickin' him up on a stage with a bunch of Chorus girls?
 Why would you want to do that?

SONNY

Wait a minute...now I gotta get on him here in a few minutes and ride him out on a stage full 'a dancin' girls and circle three times...and stop on some dot... 'applause, applause, applause', why I don't know --

Sears patience is growing thin.

SEARS

- Yes?--

SONNY

Well...it don't feel right. Seems wrong. All them lights winkin' and blinkin'. Listen, I used to rodeo, I was pretty good at it --

SEARS

That's irrelevant.

SONNY

To who!!

SEARS

Mr. Steele, this is a conversation we should have at another time.

SONNY

Would it matter?

SEARS

What matters is that you fulfill the requirements of your contract, which do not include passing judgement on corporate policy.

SEARS

--I'm talking about the fact that you voluntarily accepted a highly paid, relatively simple job that more than a handful of cowboys would give their right arm for.

Sonny stares at him...a long moment.

SONNY

You're right.

SEARS

I don't want just to be right.

SONNY

You want me to like it?

SEARS

It would be a factor in our working relationship.

FITAGERALD

Mr. Sears, we'd like to get a

They move away, leaving Sonny.

TOLAND

I'm sorry, sir.

SEARS

It's alright. Apparently it was necessary.

(to Dietrich)

When this is over -- get rid of him.

Once again, Sunny Angel is in front of him.

ANGEL

Too big to talk to me, huh?

SONNY

Lady, either leave me alone or take off your dress.

She goes into a karate stance, nails him hard, sends him back into a table of canapes. Everyone shuts up, turns to stare.

LEROY'S VOICE

Wendell, I found Sonny!

PAN TO Hallie, staring down at him.

Pieces of canape on his shirt. As he moves TOWARDS US he stops abruptly, does a 180 turn, seeing someone, and ducks down an alley of slot machines. At the end he peeks around a corner, then moves back the other way, convinced he's safe. But he comes face to face with CHARLOTTA, the blonde woman we saw earlier at the desk. He reacts quickly, trying to cover it.

SONNY

Heyyyy....!

CHARLOTTA

Got a quarter?!"

SONNY

Charlotta.....

CHARLOTTA

Sonny --

SONNY

Don't say it! I'll bet the checks in the mail. You know Wendell handles all that. Come talk to me.

CHARLOTTA

SONNY

SONNY

Oh....

CHARLOTTA

You know what I want to talk about,
I want you to sign the papers!
Don't you think I saw you try to

CHARLOTTA

The judge said you had to sign

63 ON STAGE - MAIN ROOM - CAESAR'S PALACE - NIGHT 63

The show in progress. A review number celebrating AMPCO. Machinery and chorus girls. Special effects and MUSIC.

64 BACKSTAGE AREA 64

Sonny walks into the area where Rising Star is saddled, being gentled by the Wrangler. The horse is decorated like Sonny; light bulbs in a leather collar around his neck and over his chest. Danny Miles paces nervously.

DANNY

Well... Mr. Steele.

Sonny ignores him, stares at the horse for a moment. He walks over and looks at the performers on stage. CAMERA PUSHES IN ON HIS FACE. He moves back to Rising Star, swings into the saddle, takes the reins from the Wrangler.

DANNY

(referring to cue sheet)

After this number, then the motorcycle daredevils -- God save us -- and then you and the horse.

But Sonny has begun moving Rising Star toward the stage entrance. Danny watches him, first puzzled, then alarmed, as Sonny plugs himself in and lights himself and the horse.

DANNY

Not now!...

Too late.

DANNY

(continuing)

... not now!

65 ON STAGE - RISING STAR AND SONNY 65

The review continues. The horse appears upstage. The audience notices Sonny's entrance first. As the performers try to ignore him, go on with the show, Sonny rides slowly, deliberately down the middle of the stage to the head of the ramp.

- 66 NEW ANGLE - THE AUDIENCE 66
 They're delighted -- they jabber and point. Some get to their feet, applaud. Everybody ignores the disintegrating show as Sonny rides down the ramp through the room.
- 67 ON THE MAITRE D' - MAIN ROOM EXIT 67
 He watches in disbelief as Sonny rides up to him -- nobody's told him about this part of the show.
- SONNY
 Well? Open the door.
- The MAITRE D' hesitates, then pushes open the doors.
- MAITRE D'
 Sorry, Mr. Steele... Nobody told...
- 68 INT. CASINO - CAESAR'S ALACE - SONNY AND RISING STAR 68
 Sonny holds him back, forcing him to walk in an important, stately way right through the middle of the pit and to the front entrance of the hotel, the lights on his suit constantly twinkling. The gamblers react the same way as the audience in the showroom.
- 69 EXT. ENTRANCE - CAESAR'S PALACE - SONNY RIDING OFF - NIGHT 69
 The carparkers, the MAJOR DOMO watch Sonny come out of the hotel, pause for a second and then continue riding -- faster, toward the street. A bewildered tourist stands dumbfounded.
- TOURIST Did you see...
- MAJOR DOMO
 Must be some breakfast food.
- 70 EXT. PARKING LOT - SONNY AND RISING STAR - NIGHT 70
 His electric suit flashing in the Las Vegas night -- Rising Star loping along -- his light blinking with Sonny's.

Frantic activity -- chorus girls troop, bewildered through the wings as the SOUND OF REVVING MOTORCYCLE ENGINES deafens us. A frantic Danny Miles shouts to the motorcyclists:

DANNY

Forget the routine!... do the finale first!

Someone grabs his arm.

DANNY

(continuing)

Get your hand off me! Can't...

He whirls and faces a confused and angry Dietrich.

DIETRICH

What the hell's going on!? Why'd you change... I mean, what's Steele doing with the horse?

DANNY

What are you people doing with Steele!???

Moving through the collage of neon. People stare, some even wave. A police car passes, pays no attention. There is the beginning of a new look on Sonny's face.

Sonny and Star turn off the thoroughfare, and head down a darkened street. Sonny reaches down, unplugs his cords, and the twinkling lights go out, as he and the horse fade into the black desert night.

She streaks through the gambling tables with Bernie, her cameraman, in tow.

Dietrich, Toland and another executive all look grim. Fitzgerald chews Gelusil. Sears is packing angrily. Danny Miles is seated with the Wrangler we saw earlier standing stoically by.

DIETRICH

Mutual Indemnity and the Nevada
State Police, which do you want?

SEARS

Neither! I want this kept quiet

FITZGERALD

Like World War Two?

WRANGLER

You might as well know the rest,
Mr. Sears. Sonny knows horses,
I think he guessed we were using steroids to muscle him up.

SEARS

(impatiently)

Are they dangerous??

WRANGLER

Well... they make the horse sterile.

DIETRICH

Temporarily! It's just a side effect.

Sears is too angry to speak. He just glares at them.

DANNY

Ah... the world of illusion.

SEARS

This is like handing a loaded gun to Unibank. We're not talking about a horse, gentlemen. We're talking about blowing a three hundred million dollar merger!
If Steele talks to anyone before he's caught, we're finished.
AMPCO and the horse are the same thing! If we've mismanaged the horse, then we've mismanaged the corporation... our stock goes down, and there goes the merger!

EXT. DESERT - HELICOPTERS - NIGHT

77

Like giant insects, three of them swoop past, their powerful spotlights panning the desert floor. HOLD on the moonlit landscape. Then, seemingly out of nowhere, come the shadowy figures of Sonny and Rising Star, moving ghostlike across the sand.

78

INT. HALLIE'S ROOM - CAESAR'S PALACE - NIGHT

78

CLOSE on tape recorder. PULL BACK to see her seated at a desk. She has a drink, is smoking and studying publicity photos of Sonny. She wears glasses, her shoes are off and her clothes loosened.

WENDELL'S VOICE

(from the tape)

'... and then when Sonny's daddy, 'ol Shelton, died, Gus raised him. Sonny was married right in Gus's living room. Ever a man loved a man... Sonny surely loves Gus Atwater.'

WENDELL'S VOICE

'And when that woman quit him, you know where Sonny came to cool himself out. Course, Gus is gettin' old and strange these days.'

HALLIE'S VOICE

'Why'd she quit him?'

WENDELL'S VOICE

'Who knows... Sonny may 'a been in the public eye, but he always keeps his private life private.'

79 EXT. - HIGH ANGLE - NEVADA DESERT AND MOUNTAINS - DAWN 79

The first rays of the sun sparkle across the vastness of the desert floor. In the distance is a cluster of small trees.

80 CLOSER - THE STRAND OF TREES - SONNY - DAWN 80

Curled up in a tight ball on the desert floor. He opens one eye. The light hurts. He blinks, stares, sees the expanse of sand, then the legs of the horse, then the horse himself. He has a terrible hangover. Everything hurts. He gets to his knees, wincing, and crawls painfully to the horse. He gently examines the swollen tendon on the horse's back leg. As he touches it:

SONNY

Goddammit...

(then)

Sorry 'bout last night.

He creaks to his feet, puts the saddle on the horse but does not cinch it. Then he takes the reins in his hand.

SONNY

C'mon, junkie, we still got some ground to cover.

He gets his bearings, then the two move AWAY FROM CAMERA, Sonny on foot leading the horse..

81 HIGH ANGLE - SMALL CABIN - DAY 81

With a broken down porch, and ramshackle shed in back. Parked awkwardly beside the shed is a mud-covered but new Tioga Camper. Scrawled across the spare tire is "WILD BLUE YONDER." Scrawny chickens peck and squawk. Faint strains of a squeaky FIDDLE drift up toward us.

82 CLOSE - SONNY WITH RISING STAR - HILLTOP - DAY 82

Staring at the cabin. Despite the sweat and dust and obvious fatigue, the trace of a smile begins.

83 INT. PRESS CONFERENCE - CAESAR'S PALACE - MORNING 83

News cameras film Dietrich as he reads his formal announcement to reporters. Hallie and Templeton are there. CAMERA PUSHES to Dietrich.

DIETRICH

We have been advised by the Attorney General of the State of Nevada that the theft of Rising Star is grand larceny, a felony. In the event this proves to be a deliberate act, a felony warrant will be issued for Mr. Steele. At this time, however, our primary concern is the welfare of our horse.

INT. CASINO - SLOT MACHINES - FITZGERALD AND HALLIE

Fitzgerald has a drink and a hatful of quarters. He plays the slots throughout the following.

HALLIE

What did he say to Sears at the reception? They were at each other, what's that all about?

FITZGERALD

Give us a break will you, Ha --

HALLIE

-- Ransom... what about ransom?

FITZGERALD

The man's not that crazy.

HALLIE

Have you thought of brain damage? He's been tossed off a horse enough times.

FITZGERALD

So the cowboy's emotionally disturbed, who isn't?

HALLIE

Are you saying he made a mistake and he'll bring it back when he 'cools out' and returns to his senses?

FITZGERALD

I don't know! Lemme alone -- I don't know any answers, I don't know why he took the horse. I don't know from brain damage, I don't know from cooling out? Go find some good news, willya for Chrissakes!

She hits "fast forward." Scrambled sounds, then she hits "play."

HALLIE

Can I buy you a drink?

LEROY

91 AERIAL VIEW - THE HIGHWAY - DAY 91

The top of Sonny's Tioga. But as we PULL UP AND AWAY we SEE that the road is a mass of recreational vehicles of all types. Sonny's Tioga moves anonymously among them.

92 FULL SHOT - "CELESTIAL AURA HEALTH FOOD STORE" - DAY 92

The small main street of a tiny town. PAN AROUND TO SEE Sonny, blanket over his shoulders, dark glasses on, hat pulled low over his eyes, crossing the street.

93 INT. HEALTH FOOD STORE - DAY 93

A GIRL in sandals, print dress to the floor, waist-length hair, looks up as Sonny enters.

GIRL

'Morning.

SONNY

'Morning. Have any eucalyptus leaves?

GIRL

You must be a Capricorn.

He stares at her.

SONNY

Ahh... have any eucalyptus leaves?

GIRL

Just tea bags.

SONNY.

Well, I need some of them tea bags.

GIRL

How many do you want?

SONNY

Four or five dozen.

GIRL

Bags?

SONNY

Boxes.

94 INT. HOTEL CORRIDOR - BERNIE'S ROOM - HALLIE - DAY 94

Bernie stands in the doorway arguing with her.

HALLIE
I'll have it back in twelve hours!

BERNIE
I can't do it, I signed for it. I'm responsible for it. I got to go with you.

HALLIE
I can't take you with me!

BERNIE
Why? What've you got going?

BERNIE
The union says --

HALLIE Bernie!

BERNIE
No!

HALLIE
Bernie... I'm covering the French elections in April. You want to go to Paris in April?

95 EXT. HIGH PLATEAU - OFF THE ROAD - DAY 95

A small fire burns, smoking heavily. Sonny dumps another batch of the tea bags into the flames. Rising Star stands by with a gunny sack tied around his ears. Sonny grasps the bottom of the sack, rips it open, and spreads it over the smoke making a chimney. Both of them are breathing smoke.

SONNY
Couple more times you'll be breathing fine.
(coughing)
I I live.

96 LONG SHOT - SMALL CABIN - DAY 96

The one Sonny saw earlier.

96

The camper is no longer in evidence. GUS ATWATER sits in a broken chair on the front porch. He is a grizzled old man whose clothes once fit. He plays a squeaky fiddle. His cracked voice is not always comprehensible. We HEAR bits of phrases like... "Lightnin' hoofs."... "Horrid creatures"... "Rollin' body"... "Husband's error"... "Ungrateful Goddess." He stops, looks up, holds his fiddle in place.

97 GUS' POV - A CAR STOPPING ON THE ROAD

97

Hallie gets out, her tape recorder over her shoulder. The road is some distance from the porch. She lifts her arm as if afraid. Then moves slowly toward Gus. When she is close enough for him to see her clearly, she stops. He smiles, likes her face. Then he improvises, playing at the fiddle.

GUS

(singing; crippled voice)

'Golden wheat... 'bove her head,
... Glimmerrrr... Golden Wheat.'

HALLIE

Mr. Atwater?

GUS

Ya wounded?

HALLIE

No, but I'm looking for a friend of ours.

GUS

Ain't here.

He starts to fiddle, watching her closely. She moves to the porch.

HALLIE

But he was.

GUS

(holding hand out)
Yep, from this high!

HALLIE

Was he here today?

97 CONTINUED:

97

GUS

Here today, gone tomorra'.

(sings)

'Like a flutterin' bird.'

(pause)

Who you?

HALLIE

I work for television. You know television?

GUS

Got one! Works sometimes!

(sings)

'Comes a flashin'.'

Hallie moves closer. She sits on a box near his chair.

HALLIE

Gus... I'm a friend of Leroy's.

GUS

Leroy?!

HALLIE

And Wendell... they told me you'd know where he was.

He cocks his head.

HALLIE

(continuing)

How else would I know where you are? See?

(then)

We're all worried about him.
I need to find him. I just want to talk to him.

(then)

I can't hurt him.

GUS

He came here.

(whispers)

Covered with a mist, y'know?
Like it floats atop a river...

(sings shakily)

'Grows to a cloud... shuts away the sun.'

HALLIE
 Is he okay?
 (then; quietly)
 Where'd he go, Gus?

98 EXT. CLOSE - A SHOCKING BLUR OF MOVEMENT - NIGHT

98

The SOUND of HALLIE'S GASP as she is thrown roughly to the ground. A hand stifles her scream... Sonny's hand. He has her pinned to the ground, his arm raised to strike.

HALLIE
 (petrified) Wait!... It's...

SONNY
 (recognizing her) What??? --

He hits her. She squirms, gasping. The following is overlapped, fragmented.

HALLIE
 Don't... please don't --

SONNY
 What're you doing? What do you want, how'd you find me?!

HALLIE
 Please! You're hurting --

SONNY
 How'd you find me, who's with you?!

HALLIE
 I'm alone, I'm alone --

SONNY
Who's with you??

HALLIE
 I swear!

SONNY
 How'd you get here?!

HALLIE
 Myself... I drove myself!

98 CONTINUED:

98

SONNY

How??

(raises his arm)

How'd you find me?

HALLIE

Gus! Gus Atwater!

It takes the fight out of him. He moves off of her slowly.

SONNY

How'd you get to Gus?

HALLIE

Can I get up?... Please.

SONNY

How would you know to find Gus?

HALLIE

By accident... I interviewed your friends, I figured --

-- Who??

HALLIE

-- Wendell... Leroy... they talked about Gus... I...

(then suddenly)

Listen, what is it with you, you hit my face, you sonofabitch! What the hell's the matter with you?

She slaps him. Hard.

HALLIE

(continuing)

I'm not staying here!

She turns and starts away. Sonny watches her. She stops, turns back, stares at him a moment.

HALLIE

(continuing)

What'd you take the horse for?

Sonny stares at her in disbelief. Then --

SONNY

What're you doing here? You're crazy! Who else knows about Gus?

HALLIE

Nobody. Nobody knows about Gus..

(then)

I'm crazy!? You disappear with somebody's twelve million dollar horse and you call me crazy?

SONNY

Hold it, hold it, hold it!

HALLIE

Don't you hit me!

He begins to walk around her, trying to figure out what to do. She keeps her eyes on his as he circles.

SONNY

Did you scare that old man?

HALLIE

No.

SONNY

Does anybody else know you're here?

HALLIE

I told you nobody knows anything!
I don't have any reason to tell anybody anything!

He waits a moment, decides to believe her -- then walks up a slight rise.

SONNY

Go away. Go home.

HALLIE

(following him)

What're you going to do with him?

SONNY

There's a dog food factory in Phoenix. Go home.

Just beyond the rise are the ruins of an old building or two. Behind one crumbling facade Sonny has made camp. A small fire burns. Rising Star is tethered nearby. The remains of Sonny's dinner are beside the fire. He tosses them out, begins to put away the cooking gear. Hallie watches him.

HALLIE

Just tell me why you took the horse.

(he doesn't answer)

You can't race him, you can't sell him, you can't start your own cereal company. What the hell do you want?

(still no answer)

Were you mad at AMPCO? I saw you arguing with Sears?

(still no answer)

Were they going to fire you?

Did you want a raise?

(then)

Can't you just answer a question?

(then; a new tack)

Listen. I don't have anything against you... I mean, I don't usually get slugged doing this, but even so, I --

SONNY

(not looking at her)

Hell'd you expect, sneakin' up on me like some cat?

HALLIE

-- I tried to call, your line was busy!

He spins and looks at her. A look that silences her, makes her uncomfortable. Then he goes back to work, cleaning up. He throws a blanket over the horse.

HALLIE

(continuing)

Look, your friends are worried about you. I mean, Wendell and Leroy. Can I tell them anything?

(silence)

What is this place? Does it mean something to you?

(silence)

No messages for anybody, huh? Somebody you forgot to say goodbye to?

She runs down. She suddenly feels chilly, moves to the fire, holding herself. When Sonny speaks, he begins quietly. But then, his anger takes over.

SONNY

You want information -- go to the library... I know what you want, and it ain't answers. You want a story! Any story! Why don't you make one up? That's what you'll do anyway, tell it the way you want to tell it. You don't need me to tell you a story! You guys make 'em up all the time anyway!

(then)

Ask me questions about why I'm 45 minutes late -- you're not interested in why I'm late, all you're interested in is gettin' a rise out 'a me! 'Pound for pound, who's worth more, you or the horse?' Who the hell cares? You people are all the same.

(suddenly)

You know there's people in Africa or some damn place, you take a picture of 'em, they'll kill you. They think you're takin' somethin' away from 'em. That you only got so much... stuff!... and if other people are takin' it all, then there ain't none left for yourself. Well, I don't want to be no story.

(then)

I just retired from Public Life.

HALLIE

Boy have you got it wrong! You just rode down the Las Vegas Strip on somebody else's 12 million dollar horse. Did you think we wouldn't notice? You're a story all right.

He has packed the camping things and now pours the remaining coffee onto the fire, putting it out. It hisses in the moonlight.

SONNY

(quietly)

But not yours. I'm nobody's story but my own, now.

98 CONTINUED: (5)

98

Sonny had untethered Rising Star. He leads the stallion past Hallie and towards the top of the rise. Hallie runs after him, trying to keep up. CAMERA TRAVELS WITH them.

HALLIE

Wait a minute, where're you going?

He keeps walking.

HALLIE

(continuing)

Aww, I hurt your feelings. I didn't mean to hurt your feelings.

(he keeps walking)

Was it something I said?

(he keeps walking)

Come on, do a working girl a favor -- I'm trying to make an honest buck. Tell an honest tale, make an honest dollar, I don't want to make up a story about you.

(he keeps walking)

What's the big secret? What've you got to lose? Everybody wants to know. They wonder where you are, why you did it -- where you're going. The truth about the Great American Cowboy and the world's champion horse who disappear into the sunset.

SONNY

Boy, are you full a' shit. With all due respect, ma'am.

He's reached the Tioga parked off the small dirt road. Hallie's rental car is parked behind it.

SONNY

(continuing)

And you're standing in poison sumac.

Hallie jumps as though she were in a fire. Sonny opens the back of the Tioga, leads the horse in and is snapping the chain that braces the horse's buttocks.

HALLIE

You sonofabitch! You're not gettin' away from me; I'll follow you!

He grabs a flashlight from the Tioga, steps out, closes the back door and moves to Hallie's car. He takes the keys from the ignition, opens the trunk and takes out the spare tire.

HALLIE

(continuing)

What?... What're you doing??

He tosses her the flashlight and her car keys, then reaches down and pierces her rear tire with the tip of his pocket knife. We HEAR it HISSING through the rest of the scene.

SONNY

Shouldn't take you more than twenty minutes.

HALLIE

Goddamn you, you're nuts! I'll turn you in, I see you license plates. I'll tell the cops, you bastard, 'Wild Blue Yonger!'

SONNY

(quietly)

No, you won't. You're gonna milk this story for all it's worth. The last thing in the world you want is for me to be captured. We both know a captured horse thief ain't no story.

He is in the Tioga and gone. She holds the flashlight, listening to the sickening HISS of the TIRE. Then we HEAR:

HALLIE (V.O.)

It was from this hotel that Rising Star, the greatest money winner in the history of American racing --

CLOSE on a "Ranch Breakfast" box. PULL BACK TO SEE Sonny staring at it. His arms are full of groceries, including a plastic bag of ice. His hat is low over his eyes, sunglasses on, and his shoulders covered with the blanket. The TV is ON, the cartoon SOUNDTRACK BLARING. The GROCER's 8-year-old daughter watches, transfixed.

SONNY

(mumbling) got any shoelaces?

GROCER

(over the TV) What?

SONNY

Shoelaces.

GROCER

(to daughter)
Anita! Get rid a' that stuff!

He moves over to change the TV channel. Speaks to Sonny:

GROCER

(continuing)
Over there by the shoe polish.

While the Grocer is changing the station, Sonny moves toward the counter with his purchases. Hallie's face flashes on the screen just as Sonny arrives at the counter! He almost drops the groceries. He ducks his head and fumbles for his money, trying to get the transaction over as rapidly as possible.

Behind Hallie, a huge blow-up of Sonny is flashed on the screen. Sonny ignores his change and flees from the store, the Grocer staring after him as --

102 EXT. A VISTA IN SOUTHERN UTAH - SUNSET

102

A cold mountain stream reflects the last rays of the sun. In the distance the mountains are snow-capped. A small FIRE CRACKLES hotly. Sonny works on Rising Star beside the water. He has cut the leg off a pair of old pants, and slipped it over the horse's rear leg. He ties the bottom closed with one of the shoelaces. then he fills the pant leg with ice and ties the top closed with the other shoelace. Satisfied, he turns to the fire and empties the last of the tea bags onto it. He picks up the gunny sack and starts to tie it over the horse's head. As the smoke rises:

If you want a story, we could put you in the middle of a story.

(looks to Dietrich, who nods affirmative)

We could guarantee you first crack at everything.

HALLIE

I've already got first crack!

FITZGERALD

What if we made it exclusive? How about exclusive footage on the capture, Hallie?

HALLIE

Oh? When are you planning that?

(then; to Sears)

You want to tell me about that confrontation you and Steele had at the reception, Mr. Sears? What was that all about?

SEARS

I could have you put in jail, Miss Martin.

You could try.

It's 10:59 here at KLSG in St. George, and time for the eleven o'clock news roundup. Here is Harvey Del Rio for Rudolph Bros. Lumber and Building Supplies. Harvey:

HARVEY'S VOICE

(from the radio)

Thanks, Clayton, and good evening everyone. Retail sales clerks are still on strike in Salt Lake. Union officials in the Provo, Orem and Heber area say their members are prepared to walk out in sympathy. In Las Vegas, Investigators still have no leads to the whereabouts of Rising Star, the great thoroughbred stallion, whose abduction by Sonny Steele Friday triggered a massive search.

Sonny turns UP the VOLUME, listens intently:

HARVEY'S VOICE

(continuing)

AMPCO officials are now expressing alarm over the welfare of the horse. According to one official, Steele has a long history of alcoholism and drug abuse. In the past year he has appeared before the public in an intoxicated state on several occasions, and has been abusive to both press and public. AMPCO official indicate he has become increasingly unstable, often causing public humiliation. They believe that if the horse is to survive this ordeal, time is of the essence.

Sonny snaps the RADIO OFF. He checks his watch. We HOLD on his set expression as he drives.

Through the OUT OF FOCUS trees we SEE Hallie carrying the camera equipment. She arrives in the clearing, puts the equipment down, looks around impatiently. PULL BACK until we are SHOOTING OVER Sonny's shoulder. Hidden by the trees, he studies her a moment. He holds Rising Star's reins. Hallie sits on the camera case.

CLOSER - HALLIE - DAY

121

Beginning to get annoyed. She stands up, yells;

HALLIE

Hey! I'm here!

(then)

I'm alone! No troops!

She waits. Hears nothing. Then she starts.

122

HALLIE'S POV - SONNY AND RISING STAR

122

Beneath the outcrop of trees, in backlight. A dramatic image. Hallie watches him approach. When he is near;

SONNY

Come on.

Hallie picks up the cases, follows him. The cases are heavy. She stumbles, goes down.

HALLIE

I think my leg's broken. What do we do? Shoot me?

He looks at her a moment, then picks up her cases. She gets up, continues to follow.

123/4

ANOTHER ANGLE - CLEARING - TIOGA IN B.G.

123/4

He puts the cases down.

SONNY

Get your camera ready.

She begins setting up.

HALLIE

If you'll stand over there with that range of mountains be --

SONNY

This is alright.

He's picked the least identifiable spot.

HALLIE

It'll look much more dramatic

SONNY

--You can tell 'em it was dramatic, you got a colorful imagination.

HALLIE

Listen, I'm cold and I'm tired, I've been travelling all night and I don't like being talked to as if I were --

SONNY

(flaring)
-- And I don't like being talked about like I'm a horse thief!

HALLIE

You stole a horse! You are a horse thief!

SONNY

I took this horse because they were shootin' hypodermics into him.
Trottin' him around on a stage with a bunch of chorus girls! He's a horse!
Look at him! He's a champion!

She has turned on the camera. He doesn't know it is running. He continues more softly now.

SONNY

(continuing) Listen, I saw this horse run. I saw him stumble and fall back and lose his stride, and then pull himself up. I saw him stretch himself out when he didn't have nothin' left to give...but he found it somewhere.

(pats the horse)
You won, didn't you, junkie?

(then) Hell, this horse got a heart the size of a locomotive. He's got more soul and drive and heart than most people you'll ever know. And they're hangin' lights all over him. They'd dress him up in short pants and have him smokin' a cigar if they thought it'd sell their damn junk!

(MORE)

SONNY

(continuing)

They got him tanked on tranquilizers and Bute! His tendon's fillin' up. They got him shot full of steroids. It's just for looks and it makes him sterile - so even if you wanted to breed him and pass on them great qualities, you couldn't.

(pause)

To say nothin' of what the horse hisself is missin'.

(then, simply)

So I took him. You wanna put that thing on now...if you turn that thing on, I'll try to give you a speech.

FEATURE Hallie's strong reaction to what he's said.

HALLIE

(quietly)

Okay...ready.

Sonny is immediately awkward, unsure, stiff.

SONNY

Can you see me? Can they see the horse?

HALLIE

Keep going...they can see everything.

SONNY

Ahh...this here's Sonny Steele.

(points)

His name is Rising Star. And he's one of the best...one of the great animals in the history...of animals.

(then)

I'd like to talk to you about fairness. You been told a lot of lies about me. None of em's true. Well, maybe I drink now and then, but even the Pope takes a drink now and then.

(hesitates)

Thing is, this horse ain't been treated fairly. They been havin' him do things he's not born to do.

CAMERA BEGINS A SLOW PULL BACK AND AWAY.

SONNY

(continuing)

He oughta be lazin' around some field, eatin' good mountain grass, standin' stud.

(pause)

He oughta be puttin' on weight and gettin' old...like the rest of us.

When they are TINY FIGURES IN THE LANDSCAPE we:

125 EXT SMALL TOWN - SOUTHERN UTAH - DAY 125

A main highway running through the center. Three state police cars pull up discharging officers. They take positions on either side of the street.

126 EXT. ANOTHER SMALL TOWN - DAY 126

Four local police motorcycles form a roadblock with a Marshall's car. People from the neighboring gas station stare at what is happening.

127 EXT A THIRD SMALL TOWN - DAY 127

A plain, unmarked car arrives in front of the town's main building. Two plainclothes police get out, begin giving instructions to other officers.

128 EXT THE CLEARING - SONNY & HALLIE - DAY 128

Sonny is just finishing his speech.

SONNY

He's got some rights. Maybe they bought him, maybe they own him, but there's some rights you never buy...even from an animal.

(then)

This horse earned a better life. I wanta see he gets it.

He finishes. Hallie turns off the camera. A beat.

HALLIE

How're you going to do that?

SONNY

I'll do it.

He turns away, picks up a blanket, throws it over the horse. She watches a moment, wants more, decides not to push it. She begins putting the camera gear away. Their backs are to each other.

HALLIE

Where?

(he doesn't answer)

Listen...could I go with you?

SONNY

No.

HALLIE

I really wouldn't be any --

He turns, looks at her.

SONNY

Trouble?

He laughs, moves over to pick up her equipment.

HALLIE

Well...let me give you my card.

SONNY

Your what?

She digs into her tote bag. A toothbrush case and some toothpaste fall out. She picks them up quickly.

HALLIE

Sometimes you think of something you forgot to say, or...

(holds card out)

...or wish you'd said.

He takes it awkwardly, doesn't know what to do with it.

HALLIE

Steele? What are you going to do with him?

He picks up her cases and begins moving away. CAMERA TRACKS THEM back toward her car.

SONNY
I told you.

HALLIE
You didn't tell me anything!

SONNY Enough.

HALLIE
Why does it have to be such a big secret!?

SONNY
So they can't stop me!

HALLIE
From doing what???

SONNY
Turning him loose...

HALLIE
--what?? Rising Star?

SONNY
...get him back to where he was, what he was.

HALLIE
--That's a thoroughbred racehorse! they're delicate as orchids! You can't --

SONNY
--Everything he needs t'know he knows. It's in his blood, just half-forgot... I'll remind him. And then --

No more. He keeps walking.

HALLIE
...Where?

SONNY y'have a safe trip down, miss.

HALLIE

Miss my ass! Where are you going to turn him loose? D'you know?

SONNY

I know.

HALLIE

Who else knows?

SONNY

(faint smile)

Maybe he does. Interview him.

HALLIE

...You're going to screw up your whole life!

SONNY

I'm unscrewing it, Lady.

They arrive at her car. He opens the trunk and begins to put the equipment away.

HALLIE

Wendell Hixson says you forget the best part of yourself --

SONNY

He's a nice man, Wendell.

HALLIE

Is he right?

SONNY

No.

HALLIE

Charlotta says you keep on riding after the buzzer, you don't know--

SONNY

Charlotta?! You got her in on this too??

HALLIE

(beat, deliberate:)

She says you take her breath away.

He faces her. There's a naked moment between them.

SONNY

That ain't hard t'do. She's all breath, anyway.

HALLIE

She's pretty.

SONNY

(a beat)
Yeah, she's pretty.

HALLIE

She told me that when you two first met you used to ---

(she freezes)
--wait a second! That place... that canyon where you spent your honeymoon...there were wild mustangs!
What was the name of it??

SONNY

Damn that woman!

HALLIE

Dusters' Canyon!

SONNY

That's the main reason I left her...or she left me, her big mouth!
Anyway I ain't goin' to no Dusters' Canyon.

HALLIE

(desperate now)
Listen, I got an idea, why don't we drive to town, have a cup of coffee, talk this over. My treat.

He reaches into his pocket, takes out a soiled envelope.

SONNY

I won't be passin' a mailbox...
It's got a stamp on it and everything, I'd be obliged if you'd --

HALLIE

(takes it)
First one I pass...
(looks at him)
Well...I just take the road back to that broken tree.

SONNY

Same way you came only backwards.

Pause.

HALLIE

Don't lose my card.

He pats his pocket where the card is.

HALLIE

(continuing)

Good luck. Wherever you're going.

SONNY

Thanks.

She crosses to the car door. Sonny starts away.

HALLIE

You can call me any time.

Sonny tips his hat without turning.

She hangs up.

132

ANOTHER ANGLE - HALLIE

132

She moves away from the phone in the opposite direction of the police cars. She approaches a mailbox, takes out the letter Sonny gave her. She holds it up to the light trying to read it, starts to tear off one corner, mumbles something, puts it into the mailbox. As she turns to move back to her car she sees the police activity. A LOCAL COP walks past.

HALLIE

What's going on?

COP

Dunno for sure, this Breakfast Cowboy been spotted, I think.

Hallie freezes. She looks around, checks her watch. Near her a group of truckers exits the cafe. One BIG GUY is crossing the street toward his rig. Hallie looks around at the people on the street, then pulls the tape cassette out of her tote bag and runs across the street to the truck. She climbs onto the step-up.

HALLIE

You going to St. George?

BIG GUY

(eyeing her)

'Less they move the road.

133

EXT CLEARING - OUTSIDE TOWN - SONNY

133

He has just put Rising Star into the Tioga. He gets into the driver's seat and slowly moves over the rough terrain.

134

FULL SHOT - TIOGA

134

Just as he reaches the highway, Hallie's car SCREECHES onto the dirt and stops dead ahead of him. He has to slam on the brakes. He quickly checks the horse, then jumps angrily out of the tioga. Hallie is out of the car.

SONNY

(quietly)

You're wearing out your welcome, lady.

cycle cops and a county marshall.
All waiting for you!

He glares at her a moment, moves quickly to the edge of the highway, peers toward town.

SONNY

You told me nobody was gonna follow you!

HALLIE

Nobody did! An expert got me out of that hotel!

SONNY

Expert, huh?

He gets into her car, pulls it out of his own path.

135 CLOSE UP - HALLIE

He gets out of the car, moves to the Tioga. Hallie rushes to her trunk, pulls out the camera cases.

HALLIE

Wait a minute!

SONNY

Why? You want to film the capture?!

HALLIE

I'm in as much trouble as you are!!

SONNY

What are you talking about?

HALLIE

I just talked to New York.
'Mis-prison of felony' That's what they told me.

department!

She carries her camera cases over toward the Tioga.

SONNY

Then tell them. I'll be gone by then, anyway!

(re camera cases)

Hey, what are you doing?!

HALLIE

I can't tell them! I can't 'divulge sources' and expect anybody ever to tell me anything again!

(then)

And...I'd have to tell them about Gus...?

She gets into the right seat of the Tioga. Sonny is livid. Suddenly we HEAR the WHOMP, WHOMP, WHOMP of a distant helicopter. He spins to look.

He runs to the Tioga, scanning the sky, gets in and drives off onto the highway, turning the opposite direction.

INT: THE TIOGA - MOVING - SONNY & HALLIE

Hallie sits as far away from him as possible. He turns the vehicle off the highway onto a dirt road, but then has to jam on the brakes.

140 FULL SHOT - TIOGA - HOLD ON SIGN 140

The dirt road is washed out. A mass of earth and trees block the way.

141 INT TIOGA - CLOSE TWO SHOT - SONNY & HALLIE 141

SONNY

Damn!!

He backs the vehicle onto the highway, continues in the direction he was going. HOLD ON SIGN reading: "Hurricane - 1 mile."

142 EXT MAIN STREET - HURRICANE 142

Two motorcycle cops, three police cars and a Sheriff's car parked near the opposite end of town. They have stopped a car pulling a horse trailer. The locals are staring.

HALLIE

What're we gonna do?

SONNY

(beat)

Get on the floor.

HALLIE

What??

SONNY

Do it, get on the floor!

She scrambles down. He glances into the rear-view mirror. Two motorcycle cops exit the small cafe and cross to their parked bikes. Sonny moves to Rising Star, begins to saddle him.

of here. The cops will chase me.

HALLIE

--You're crazy!--

SONNY

Go to Cisco Falls. There's an abandoned cabin at the foot of the bluffs ---

HALLIE

--Where's Cisco Falls--?

SONNY

Find it. You found me!!

He secures the cinch, opens the back door.

HALLIE

Wait a minute!! There's a dozen cops out there, you'll never make

The two motorcycle cops take off after him.

146

THE MOTORCYCLE COPS AT THE END OF THE HIGHWAY

146

They start their motors and take off in pursuit.

- 155 SONNY'S POV - THE OTHER END OF THE FIELD 155
 Eight or nine kids are playing! They hear the NOISE, look TOWARDS US, see the oncoming traffic, panic and run in all directions.
- 156 CLOSE RUNNING SHOT - SONNY 156
 Seeing the kids spread out over the field, he makes a sudden turn, leaps a hedge and bolts through a back yard toward the street on the other side.
- 157 THE POLICE CAR BEHIND HIM 157
 skidding as it tries to stop and turn, sending up showers of dirt and debris, most of which ends up in the eyes of the motorcycle cops. One rider, blinded by the dirt, turns in the general direction Sonny took and crashes into the hedge, sending the cop flying.
- 158 A SIDE STREET - SONNY AND RISING STAR 158
 They fly out from behind a house and plunge into a street. A woman in a station wagon, thinking it's an apparition, screams, and swerves to miss him. She ends up broadside in the street, blocking the oncoming police car. Sonny races off in the opposite direction so fast that the two motorcycle cops coming toward him find themselves racing past him. As the horse races between them, they try to turn, almost collide, recover and speed off again. People are now yelling and calling out to Sonny.
- 159 INT. TIOGA - HALLIE 159
Sixty! She gets up, looks around, sees a single cop on foot at the end of the street, puts the Tioga in gear and moves off.
- 160 AN OPEN EXPANSE - THE END OF TOWN - SONNY AND STAR 160
 They reach it and turn on a tremendous burst of speed. The remaining three motorcycles race after him, trailed by one police car and the Sheriff's car. It's open, sandy country with lots of scrub brush.
- 161 THE TIOGA 161 moving out of the residential area and onto the highway adjacent to where the chase is.

- 162 LONG VIEW - TRAVELLING SHOT - THE CHASE 162
 SEEN from the side. The participants small against the landscape. Trails of dust from the horse and the vehicles are luminous in the low light. Rising Star really stretched out now.
- 163 ACROSS HALLIE FROM INSIDE THE TIOGA 163
 seeing the chase. She slows, watches. She stops.
- 164 TRAVELLING SHOT - SONNY 164 Really burning it! But the police gaining.
- 165 CLOSE - HALLIE 165
 She can't resist it. Reaches back and pulls out the camera.
- 166 THE MOTORCYCLE COPS 166
 gaining, but fighting the big, heavy bikes in the rough terrain.
- 167 CLOSE - HALLIE 167
 aiming the camera toward the chase. As she reaches out the window, she reacts.
- 168 HALLIE'S POV - THE COP ON FOOT 168 running down the street towards her.
- 169 THE POLICE CARS 169
 bouncing like hell over the ruts and rocks.
- 170 THE TIOGA 170
 as Hallie quickly puts down the camera and races off. In the rear-view mirror, she and we SEE the cop writing down the license number.
- 171 THE OPEN AREA - THE CHASE 171
 Moving at full speed, Sonny and Star approach a steep embankment.

171

Sonny glances back quickly, then concentrates on what is ahead. A split second before the horse reaches the edge, Sonny pulls hard on the reins. Rising Star digs in with all four legs and skids forward. They slide over the top and down the embankment, the horse remaining stiff-legged through the loose shale to the bottom. The first motorcycle, unable to stop, catapults over the edge and tumbles over and over to the bottom. The cop, thrown clear, manages to get up, dirty but unhurt. The police car turns and runs parallel to Sonny at the top of the embankment, trailed by the two remaining motorcycles.

172 ANOTHER ANGLE

The valley Sonny is in levels out in front of him. The hill on his left flattens down to his level. The police car, running parallel, is gradually coming down to his level. Sonny slows the horse slightly, causing the police car to do the same. At the last minute, Sonny lets the horse out, and barely edges out the police car. But from around the hill on Sonny's right, a second police car flies out. Unable to turn in time, it hits the first car broadside. The two cars slide to the left up another embankment.

173 SHOOTING DOWN THE EMBANKMENT - THE CHASE

173

As the cars fly up the other embankment, the upper car slowly rolls over until it is completely upside down on top of the lower car. The cars continue.

174 CLOSE - SONNY

looking back. He can hardly believe what he sees...

175 MOVING POV - THE POLICE CARS

175

one upside down atop the other. The two cops in the upper car hanging by their belts, hollering like hell. The mobile car slows and stops as the two motorcycles continue the chase.

176 FULL SHOT - THE CHASE

176

Rising Star tiring. The motorcycles gaining. Sonny begins talking to the horse, urging him on, knowing what it's costing. He looks ahead.

- 177 SONNY'S POV. - A STREAM 177
A hundred yards ahead. Through the low brush. It is tree lined.
- 178 FULL SHOT - THE CHASE 178
Sonny and Rising Star plunge into the stream. It is about three feet deep. Rising Star fights the water and tries gamely to continued.
- 179 ANOTHER ANGLE - THE MOTORCYCLES 179
They slow. The first cop plunges into the stream. His momentum carries him forward for a few yards, sending up giant tails of water. Then the bike slows, wheel spinning, and falls over. The second bike stops, the officer knowing better than to try. He stares at:

SEARS

I see...Fitzgerald?

FITZGERALD

Yes, sir?

SEARS

He's not Superman, he's not invisible, he's not a...radically advanced thinker. He's not even well. He's...a cowboy. We, on the other hand are, theoretically, a group of men and women who have built...all this. We have money, we have airplanes, we have helicopters, we have computers.

been waiting a couple of hours and is getting cold. She hears something, stops humming, jumps to her feet.

HALLIE

Hello?
(then louder)
Hello??

No answer. She moves forward, hears the noise again, spins around.

189 HALLIE'S POV - SONNY & RISING STAR

There's some Witch Hazel in the cabinet over the sink. And an old T-shirt by the bunk.

She moves quickly to the Tioga. Sonny uncinches the saddle, gently lifts it off the horse, mumbles reassuringly. He runs his hands down the horses' legs. Hallie returns with the things. He takes them without speaking, begins to rub the horses tendons with the T-shirt.

SONNY

(continuing)

I owe you one, buddy.

Hallie watches the way he works the horse. His gentleness.

HALLIE

(quietly)

Nobody chased me. You were right, they all took off after you. You should have seen yourself. It was fantastic.

He looks at her a moment. Then goes back to work.

HALLIE

Are you surprised I got here?

SONNY

(simply)

No.

She's stopped for a second. Sonny continues working.

HALLIE

It was on the road map. I didn't have to ask anybody or anything.....

He continues working the horse.

Sonny gives no indication of having heard her; dishes out two bowls of chili.

HALLIE

None for me, I'm not hungry... so by the time you set Rising Star free, you'll have everybody in the country behind you!

SONNY

Then I'd just have to keep lookin' over my shoulder.

HALLIE

(exasperated)

Do you want to go to jail?

SONNY

No.

HALLIE

Well how do you think this is going to end!

SONNY

Not on Television.

FEATURE Hallie's strong reaction! Does he know? She quickly grabs the chili and starts eating. Covering:

HALLIE

OK...I respect your position. I don't understand it, but I respect it. Lots of famous people hated publicity. I don't know how they got famous. Albert Schweitzer, Franco...Albert Schweitzer...

He is looking at her. She stops eating. Worried.

Go to sleep.

HALLIE

I'm not sleepy.

SONNY

(half-asleep)
You weren't hungry either.

(then)

It's a long way.

HALLIE

Where should I.....?

SONNY

HALLIE

I'm all ready!

SONNY

Have to get to a phone and warn Gus. When they find the camper they'll trace it right to him.

She moves toward him lugging the camera equipment.

SONNY

(continuing)

What're you doing with that?

HALLIE

It's expensive equipment! I'm responsible for it. I'm certainly not going to leave it here!

SONNY

We're walking! With our feet!
There's no escalators! No bell-hops!

She looks towards Rising Star.

SONNY

Oh, no..he's not carrin' it...

HALLIE

The hell I can't. I've carried this stuff plenty of times.

SONNY

Up the escalator at Bloomingburgs?

HALLIE

Bloomingdales! And what do you know about New York?

SONNY

Ever hear of the Madison Square Gardens?

HALLIE

No!

SONNY

Well they got rodeo there. It's a damn big thing, and I been in it.

HALLIE

I've been to the rodeo! Twice!

SONNY

Did you stay for the rattlesnake round-up??

HALLIE

Sure! I stayed right to the end!

SONNY

Well they don't have one! How's anybody gonna roundup a rattlesnake?!

HALLIE

I was just trying to be pleasant! You got yourself so worked up!

SONNY

What do I have to be worked up about?...I got a stole horse, everybody but the Coast Guard after me, nuthin' but open country to cross, and now I'm carryin' a crazy woman wearin' shoes from Bloomingburgs - thinks she saw a rattlesnake roundup!

SEEN THROUGH a grove of trees. PULL BACK TO SEE Sonny and Hallie behind the trees. Sonny has tied Rising Star to a branch, set down his things. He feels for his dark glasses. They're gone. Lost during the chase.

SONNY

Lemme have your sunglasses.

HALLIE

(handing them)

They're prescription.

SONNY

(takes them)

You wait here with him, I'll be right back.

He starts off, stumbling.

HALLIE

(calling)

What do I do if they spot you, if you don't come back?

SONNY

Call your lawyer!

She is alone with the horse.

A rock bordered pathway leads up to the front porch. A small shack is visible in the back, near a vegetable garden. Sonny is knocking at the door. It is opened by the FARMER, tall, thin, sharp-featured. Sonny is having difficulty seeing through Hallie's glasses.

SONNY

Ahh... excuse me, I... my car broke down up the road. I got a friend down in Mesquite, havin' some trouble. He's been waitin' for me. Wondered if I could use your phone... just for a second. I'd be happy to pay you for it.

Farmer stares at him. Pushes the screen door open and points inside.

THE FARMER

Phone's over there.

197 INT. FARMHOUSE - EARLY EVENING

it in Elko.

SONNY

No, Gus, I bought it for you, remember? And when I see you again, I'm gonna buy you a nice new one. But you tell the people when they come that Sonny stole the camper... Try to remember it. Gotta go, friend.

He hangs up, starts toward the front door, sees a WOMAN with a whipping spoon standing in the kitchen door, staring at him, wide-eyed.

SONNY

(continuing)

Howdy, ma'am, just uh...

He backs away, nearly toppling a vase and he's outside.

 Cows, sheep, a few pigs, some squawking chickens.
 Hallie and Sonny are on their stomachs in the stinking hay. Hallie holds an Yves St. Laurent scarf over her nose and mouth. She's allergic to sheep and it's beginning to show. Sonny looks over at her. Watches her a moment.

SONNY
 How d'you like it so far?

She glares at him.

It grinds to a stop at the end of what was a dirt road. The Farmer steps out, goes to the rear of the to Sonny and Hallie, and lowers a ramp. Rising Star, led by Sonny, comes out, saddle on his back. Hallie follows, sneezing and wheezing, arms overloaded.

FARMER

Excalante's just about six miles northeast.

Sonny checks the sky, while the Farmer pulls a duffle bag from the cab, hands it to him.

FARMER

(continuing)

Don't know where you're headed, but... better have some things

FARMER

(without turning)

Wouldn't know what to do with it anyway.

He is in the truck, turns it around expertly, and is gone. Sonny and Hallie stand in the last rays of the light. He throws the duffle bag over Rising Star, starts off toward the hills. Hallie waits a moment, picks up her equipment, follows after him.

206 EXT. MOUNTAIN AREA - SONNY, HALLIE AND STAR - NIGHT 206.

HALLIE

I know it's the National Anthem!
...D'you mean can I sing it?...
It's hard to sing.

SONNY

A pan rests beside it. PULL BACK TO SEE a makeshift camp. Hallie lies against a tree, a rumped sleeping bag under her. She is exhausted. Her boots are off, her eyes closed and she holds a half-eaten carrot. Sonny is on the opposite side of the fire, leaning back against the saddle. He sips hot coffee. Rising Star is tethered, a blanket over him. Sonny looks at Hallie for a time, then:

 Alice Martin.

She reaches back in, comes out with a bufferin bottle, shakes two out, reaches for the cold coffee pan. Sonny makes a sharp sound, mid-dream and opens his eyes. There she is, wide-awake and somewhat furious at no pills to get her to sleep.

SONNY

You better sit down.

HALLIE

(rubbing her butt)

You don't seem to understand the problem.

SONNY

Well, lay down or something.

HALLIE

And listen to you bitch about my boots?... not on your life.

She starts to hobble, gamely.

SONNY

We're making damn good time.
Now relax!

She stretches out on her side, favoring the injured side. Sonny fishes in the green bag and takes out a mason jar of bourbon that the farmer left. He brings it to Hallie, who takes a sip. Then Sonny takes a long drink.

SONNY

You rest. I'm gonna find us a place to cross that road. I won't be long.

He moves off as she watches.

228 EXT AMPCO TOWER - LOS ANGELES - DAY 228

229 INT AMPCO EXECUTIVE SUITE - DAY 229

OPEN CLOSE on a map of UTAH, spread out on a desk. PULL BACK to see ALL AMPCO exec's present.

FITZGERALD

... talk about boondocks -

TOLAND

She ordered a camera crew to meet her there. I suppose to photograph the, uh --

'Ceremony'.

An awkward silence.

SEARS

The sales figures again. Exactly.

As Toland rifles through his notes, THE DOOR OPENS IN THE B.G. and a BUS BOY from the caterer comes in and begins quietly cleaning up a table of food.

TOLAND

Cumulatively up thirty percent -
By closing time in the east, they'd emptied the shelves.

Sears' attention has shifted to the Bus Boy.

SEARS

(calling to him)

Where did you get that?

BUS BOY

Sir?

SEARS

Your shirt!

And now WE SEE that under his windbreaker he is wearing a T-shirt emblazoned with Sonny's Face.

BUS BOY

From one of those guys sellin'
'em on the street.

Feature Sears' reaction.

SEARS

Thank you.

HALLIE

I'll bet you could make a call for me and deliver the message.
What do you charge to make a call?

LOUISE

One dollar.

HALLIE

That's fair.

She takes out a pen and paper from her bag. Writing:

HALLIE

(continuing)

Here's the number... and you ask for Mr. Les Charles and you don't talk to anybody else, no secretary or anything, and when you get him on the phone, you tell him that you're calling for me...

LOUISE

- For Louise.

HALLIE

No... yes, for Louise in Utah.

LOUISE

I know what state it is.

HALLIE

And Louise says to please call off the crew, and to, oh, to call off everything and that I'll explain when I see him.

Outside, a pick-up pulls into the station, stops.

LOUISE

I better tell him how your car's broken down.

Two roadworkers get out of the truck, start for the door.

HALLIE

No! Just the other part.

LOUISE

About the flu?

HALLIE

No, the crew!

HALLIE

(continuing)

I have an idea. I'll write out the whole message and then you can just read it to him.

As she scribbles the message, Louise addresses the men;

LOUISE

Her car broke down.

MAN #1

Where's that, Miss?

HALLIE

It didn't actually break down. It's just the way it acts.

LOUISE

I have to call her boss from home cause the phone's out here.

MAN

We could give you a lift into...

HALLIE

No, no thank you...

MAN

... Or make that call for you?

HALLIE

You know, Louise, this is all too complicated. I think we should just forget it. I'd love a couple of those candy bars... and these...

She grabs a few things, slaps a five dollar bill on the counter and rushes out.

235 EXT - CLOSER TO THE RIDGELINE - SONNY - LATE DAY 235

Closer to the camp. He stops abruptly, as we HEAR the distant wail of a police siren.

236 EXT THE CAMP - HALLIE - JUST ARRIVING 236

She rushes in, relieved that he is not there yet. She starts to take the purchases out of her bag, hears a noise, quickly puts the things back into her bag and turns just in time to see Sonny appear over a rise. He smiles at her, moves to put the gear onto Rising Star.

SONNY

How ya doin'?

HALLIE

Good as new.

SONNY

We can cross about a mile down. Better honk on it. I wanta get where we're goin' fore dark.

HALLIE

(alarmed)

We're that close??

SONNY

To where we're spendin' the night. Inside for a change. Place I know belonged to a crazy old rodeo announcer. Clark Wembly... if it's still stnadin'.

Hallie is worried now, trying desperately to stall.

HALLIE

Isn't there some... some closer place where you guys take horses to let them go.

Sonny looks at her a moment, continues to work.

SONNY

No, I just use the one, myself...

HALLIE

You know, this place is so pretty. If I were Rising Star, I'd be perfectly happy to -- of reporters. He is dressed in western gear. Toland stands near him.

FITZGERALD

... although one network or reporter may think he or she deserves a monopoly on the news, we at AMPCO believe that the public's right to know supercedes every other consideration. That's why we've called you here, it's good citizenship and good business.

During above PAN TOLAND through the reporters to a waiting limo flanked by two police cars.

REPORTER'S VOICE

Where exactly are we going?

FITZGERALD'S VOICE

If you'll just be patient and follow our instructions --

Toland enters the limo, revealing Sears and Dietrich.

239 EXT - A CABIN IN THE MOUNTAINS - NIGHT

CAMERA PANS past rocks in the moonlight, comes to rest on Rising Star, blanketed outside the decrepit cabin.

SONNY'S VOICE

... had this place built his first successful year. Should of heard him over the P.A. Voice like sticky molasses; "And Sonny Steele did his eight!"

A fire burns in the crumbling fireplace. Old rodeo posters peel off the walls. Sonny is expansive, talkative, Hallie is very subdued.

SONNY

(laughs)

Damn! You know anybody in the whole world their life's just all what happens in eight seconds? Just waitin' for the buzzer... boy am I runnin' off at the mouth.

Hallie sits.

HALLIE

Yes, you are.

(then)

I enjoyed it.

SONNY

Well... you're polite.

HALLIE

When do we get there?

SONNY

'Bout midday.

(then)

Somethin' botherin' you?

HALLIE

No. What happens to you... after?

SONNY

Gonna' start the questions again?

She smiles, but persists.

HALLIE

What happens when he's loose and chasing mares? Do you just do the same?

SONNY

(levelly)

I don't know.

He moves to her, kneels level with her eyes.

SONNY

(continuing)

What do you think should happen?
You're a... clever lady, you got all the facts. How you gonna end your story?

She wants desperately to tell him. Can't.

HALLIE

You say it like it's a bad word, 'clever'. Would you rather I were dumb?

SONNY

I like you bein' smart. But sometimes you get so busy bein' clever that... well, when was the last time you was surprised?

HALLIE

(quietly)

You. You were a surprise Sonny.

They look at each other. He moves slowly forward to kiss her. She turns her face abruptly.

HALLIE

(barely audible)

I told them.

They are both frozen for a moment. Hallie continues quickly

HALLIE

I called the network and told them where you were going.

(eyes closed)

I told them to meet me there with a camera crew. They're probably there now.

Sonny nods imperceptably, waits.

HALLIE

That's... not all.

SONNY

(quietly)

Oh? Now for the bad news, huh?

HALLIE

I lied to you about my going to jail.

Sonny exhales slowly, rises, moves around the room.

HALLIE

(continuing)

Well... yell at me, or slap me, or something...

SONNY

I already slapped you, Alice, first time we was alone together. You want me to use a club?

HALLIE

I wouldn't have done it now,
Sonny, I swear...

SONNY

Sure you would. You're a reporter. A damn good one.
You'd... report.

HALLIE

(shaking her head)

God, this is ridiculous! You're the one that broke the law and I feel like the criminal!

SONNY

(nodding)

Why d'you think that is?

HALLIE

Because I didn't expect to get ... involved.

SONNY

Involved. Y'mean it's OK to mess life up for strangers?

HALLIE

I didn't want to mess anything up. I wanted to get the story.
All of it.

SONNY

You got that allright. Hell I called you and gave you a story.
Wasn't enough, was it? Where's my letter? You mail it or is that goin' on TV too?

SONNY

(sharply)

You got no right tryin' to get yourself promoted on the TV with my troubles. It's nobody's business!

HALLIE

Sonny, you're public domain. And you asked for it. Nobody held a gun to your head to make you sign with AMPCO. That is your picture up there on the box, isn't it? In focus - so you must've sat still. It's not your back running away. It's that big... sweet... bewildered smile.

SONNY

The horse didn't sign nuthin! And he sure as hell wasn't smilin'.

HALLIE

I see, this was all for the horse?

SONNY

No. This was supposed to be for both of us. We don't do that work no more.

HALLIE

(compassionately)

Sonny... you can't resign from being famous.

SONNY

(quietly)

Wanta bet?

Silence for a long moment. Then;

HALLIE

What are you going to do?

SONNY

What I said.

HALLIE

But you can't! They'll be there ... and maybe the police!

SONNY

I gotta face 'em sooner or later. I ain't gonna run for ever.

SONNY

Did what y'had to do, Alice.
Y'can't change it now.

HALLIE

(miserable)

I just wanted to do my job,
Sonny. Be the best at it.
The way you did in rodeo.

SONNY

That's fair.

She moves slowly to him. Leans her head on his shoulder without touching him.

HALLIE

I'm so sorry.

SONNY

It's past your bedtime, Alice.
We got an interesting day, tomorrow.

We are there.

Hallie looks around frantically. There is the FAR OFF WHINNIE of mustangs. Rising Star dances nervously.

HALLIE

But... wait a minute! The Camera Crew... they're not here!

Sonny begins to take the horseshoes off Rising Star.

SONNY

'Pears not.

(to the horse)

Well, Star, what d'you think of the place?

HALLIE

They must be at another entrance.

SONNY

Ain't no other entrance.

HALLIE

Then hurry! They're late, or they got lost!

SONNY

I doubt it.

HALLIE

Well where the hell are they?

SONNY

Probably at Rim Rock Canyon. That's where you told 'em to go, ain't it? It's bout 90 miles north a here.

Towers erected to hold camera's. A mobile unit parked nearby. Portable heaters surrounded by freezing reporters.
A LARGE BANNER flaps in the wind reading: WELCOME SONNY STEELE, GOOD LUCK RISING STAR FROM THE AMPCO CORP OF AMERICA. Toland trudges through the snow to the Limo, the window's of which are frosted from the heater inside.

250 INT LIMO - RIM ROCK CANYON - SEARS & TOLAND - DAY 250

(beat)

I... don't think he's coming.

SEARS

It's occurred to me.

TOLAND

Try to prosecute again?

SEARS

We can't turn around now.

(pause)

Write him off. The Lone Ranger and Silver. May they rot in...

(shakes his head)

We probably couldn't buy the publicity.

The horse throws his head back, rears. Sonny calms him. Hallie moves close to the horse, touches his head.

HALLIE

We don't go back too far but... good luck! Never mind you had a priveleged upbringing, you're a star! You swing your tail, now.

Sonny smiles, takes Star's reins.

SONNY

Excuse us a minute.

He walks the horse a distance away. Takes the bit out of his mouth.

SONNY

Remember, they're just horses, same as you, only they never been broke. But they never won no championships neither. So when you cross that stallion and he wants to fight, remember you got the blood on your side.

HALLIE

(calling out)

Will he go - just like that?

SONNY

You bet.

HALLIE

But I thought you guys were pals.

SONNY

We are.

 where Sonny and Hallie sit. They've finished eating.

HALLIE
 How do you feel?

SONNY
 Good. Maybe not as good as him... but good.

HALLIE
 (checks her watch)
 The Limo should be here soon.

SONNY
 I remember Limo's.

HALLIE
 Paris next.
 (she smiles) Should be quite a change. The elections. There's going to be a new premier.

A waitress arrives with a jelly donut with a tiny candle stuck in it. Hallie is very touched.

SONNY
 For Bon Voyage, I figured.
 She blows out the candle. Silence.

SONNY
 More coffee?

HALLIE
 No thanks, I shouldn't drink too much coffee because it...

Just... don't feel right.

HALLIE

What feels right?

SONNY

Moovin' on... somethin' simple ... hard maybe but plain. Quiet.

HALLIE

No... company, huh?

SONNY

Maybe for awhile.

Silence.

SONNY

(gently)

I don't see you in a trailer Alice, makin' sure there's enough cold beer.

HALLIE

I can find where the quarter goes in the laundromat.

SONNY

You'd run out of me in a month's time.

They both know it's true. She looks out the window.

It's a wonderful city, honest.
Have you ever seen it - I mean really seen it?

SONNY

Like from the top?

HALLIE

There are worse places.
(then)
Still got my card?

SONNY

Still got it.

She bends over, kisses him softly on the mouth.

HALLIE

So long, Norman.

SONNY

So long, Alice.

She moves quickly away, we see her enter the limo through waves back.

WENDELL

(recites)

"Dear Wendell and Leroy; OK I done it now. I hope you ain't too mad at me. I did what I had to do. With love and affection I remain --"

LEROY

"He" remains! What do we remain?

WENDELL

Sonny done us a favor, Lee. Been so long since we talked about now. Any of us. "Did, did, was, was, who rode 'Twinkles' and who threwed 'Bubbles', remember this, remember that."

LEROY

Yeah, he sure brought us up to date now, alright! Back to Leo Marston's ranch. Probably still runs it like a damn concentration camp!

WENDELL

Look 'a that moon.

Leroy puts his magazine away.

Nothing further is known.

She begins to collect her papers.

HALLIE

So ends the bizarre saga of horseracings' most honored stallion.
And the unusual man who set him

(then)

Except for a minor postscript.

The co-anchor man looks over abruptly. The camera man covering her checks the clock and is puzzled.

HALLIE

Mr. Steele will be happy to hear that his name is not as well known as it was - even a week ago. Signs fade, other faces get pasted over.

(she pauses)

I envy the people you talked to this morning, somewhere down the road. Where was it? Some... some dusty cafe where they serve candle-lit donuts? I... I miss you cowboy and hope to see you again one day. For now... forever... wherever you are; good luck, Sonny. I hope this finds you... well.

260 A STRETCH OF HIGHWAY IN THE SOUTHWEST - EARLY EVENING 260
